I am a full stack developer with experience in Laravel, Vue.js and Angular. I have worked on Software as a Service (SaaS) development projects from conception to implementation, focusing on application architecture, contributing to database design and implementation and user interface, database management (PostgreSQL, MySQL) and API REST integration. My approach is based on code quality, efficiency and attention to detail.

My greatest strength lies in my willingness and ability to adapt to change and embrace constant technological growth. My enthusiasm and desire to constantly learn make me a valuable candidate. I am willing to face challenges, learn quickly and apply my skills in a dynamic environment.
